

Available with or without RF blocking

Get freedom from cellphone distractions with the MAXCases Shield Phone Pouches, available with or without RF blocking. Developed to address the concerns of K12 classrooms, the universal-fit pouch protects phones while keeping them out of student hands, for more focused learning. The ShieldBloc Pouch further reduces interruptions by preventing data transmission, including Wi-Fi, Bluetooth, cellular, and more. The durable dual-Velcro closures keep devices secure while providing an audible alert when pouch is opened. Compatible with a variety of storage options, the back features a large Velcro strip and woven loop for easy hanging options, while the front includes a clear ID pocket enabling the use of custom identification systems. Optional wrist lanyard available as a separate purchase.
