No.: 35315

Add control over source audio and a microphone to wireless headsets or speakers

Description

- 3.5mm Male to Male Cable with in-line microphone and audio control functionality
- Provide a wired audio connection between a 3.5mm source and 3.5mm headphones or speakers
- With the in-line microphone, add handsfree capability to phone calls, or connect with Bluetooth headphones for a hard-wired video conferencing setup
- Play, pause and skip music tracks on a connected device
- 2-Year Warranty

The Lindy 3.5mm Audio cable with In-Line Mic and control is a versatile connection solution for connecting 3.5mm source devices such as laptops, smartphones and tablets to an audio output, including headphones or speakers.

The secure 3.5mm male connections provide a secure fit with a device ensuring no interruption of audio, while using a 1.5m cable for flexible positioning of the connected devices and the user.

The small, functional control push buttons provides a variety of options for the user, including pressing management of phone calls, or control over music playback, ideal for on the go or when working out. The cable also includes a small microphone for receiving audio from the user, great for use with Bluetooth headphones, which can lose microphone functionality when hard-wired to a device, to create a wired headset in video conferencing setups.
