Power, performance, and quality you can trust.

K33821EU

Product Description

Perfect as a replacement or an additional power supply, the 100W USB-C GaN Power Adapter delivers high-speed charging in a compact, portable package. A great companion to Kensington bus-powered USB-C mobile hubs and docks, MacBooks, iPads, Surface devices, and more. Includes a 2 meter (6 foot) USB-C cable with cable management; GaN technology for cooler, faster, more efficient charging; and a two-year warranty. From Kensington, trusted for quality, safety, and performance for more than 35 years.

Features

- The 100W USB-C power supply is perfect as a replacement or an additional power adapter.
- High-speed charging delivers the power you need, when you need it.
- Designed to work with Kensington bus-powered USB-C mobile hubs and docks, MacBooks, iPads, Surface devices, and more.
- Includes a 2 meter (6 foot) USB-C to USB-C cable for flexible use. Includes cable management.
- A compact design makes this power supply ready for travel.
- By leveraging gallium nitride (GaN) technology, this adapter produces less heat, enables faster charging at higher voltages, can be made smaller, and lasts longer than traditional adapters.
- Meets or exceeds Kensington's strict standards for quality, safety, and performance; backed by a two-year warranty.
